

ABSTRACT

This study investigated students' reading motivation in English text. Survey method was used in this study to describe what types of students reading motivation. This study was conducted at SMP N 7 Pemulutan with 104 as the participants taken from the nine grade students of that school by using simple random sampling. In collecting data, the researcher used Motivation Reading Questionnaire (MRQ) from Wigfield & Guthrie (1997). The questionnaire consisted of 53 items with eleven indicators. The result covers 1. Self efficacy can make students more motivated in reading. 2. Intrinsic factor included enjoyable and students interest in reading. 3. Extrinsic factor covered such as for finishing assignment, for getting high getting praises, in getting high score.

Keywords: Students' reading motivation, in English text, Self efficacy, Intrinsic motivation, Extrinsic motivation.